TERRIFIC DAMAGE DONE BY WIND STORM THROUGHOUT ILLINOIS.

RUINS FLOODED BY CLOUD BURST FOLLOWING CYCLONE

FLOOD DAMAGE CONTINUES THROUGHOUT MISSOURI RIVER DISTRICTS.

By United Press

Kansas City, July 12.—The flood situation is even more serious today, and crops are washed out by the rivers and creeks which are still rising. Train service is completely demoralized, and reports from various parts of Missouri show the flood damage dangers to be increasing. In some districts entire families are marooned on recently made streets.

Chicago, July 12.—Reports today from all sections of Illinois swept by the cyclone of yesterday, indicate that greater damage done and several small towns almost entirely wrecked.

The entire residence section of Xenia was leveled, through the storm that lasted less than one minute. The ruins were flooded by a cloud burst following immediately the cyclone, and hundreds are now homeless.

A number of residences were badly demolished, and swept over the prairies at Pana.

Tornadoes and waterspouts last night added to the immense amount of damage done throughout the West by floods.

Among the cities struck by tornadoes last night were Xenia and Pana, in Central Illinois. The former was hardest hit, and a number of its citizens were fatally injured.

The patch of the wind through Pana was three blocks wide. A number of business houses, mills and grain elevators at Abilene, Kan., were totally wrecked by a tornado.

It is reported that the storm cost the lives of 20 persons in various parts of Kansas and Illinois.

The tornado which struck Xenia, Ill., last evening injured and demolished more than a score of dwelling houses. No lives were lost there, owing to the fact that the storm came up at an hour on Sunday when people were at home.

The storm came from the northwest and passed through the center of the city. It lasted but 30 seconds. It left many homeless, and timber and debris of homes is so thick over the town that people had difficulty in finding missing members of their families.

Houses Blown Out of Town.
The residence of Robert Holman and Edward Davis and the barns of Frederick Holman and Daniel Colcazure, were blown entirely out of town. Robert Holman was seriously injured internally and his arm was broken.

Mrs. Edward Davis and her little daughter also were injured. Many of the best houses here were completely wrecked, including those of Robert Fleming, Daniel Colcazure, Henry Howard, T. B. Howard, J. B. Pully and H. L. Elliott. Mrs. Pully was severely cut by broken glass. All electric light, telephone and telegraph poles were leveled and the city is in darkness.

The home and all buildings on Mr. Taft's farm, one mile from here were demolished. Other farm buildings and timbers were blown down for many miles around Xenia. Railroad cars were blown from the tracks there. Relief committees have been organized.

No business houses were seriously damaged. The Baptist church steeple was blown off and the building otherwise damaged. The large fruit evaporator was entirely destroyed.

Horns Carried a Mile by Wind.

One dwelling a barn were blown a half mile into the country. Crops are ruined. Xenia is demolished and people-stricken. Some of the residences are so badly demolished that repair seems impossible. Horns were blown a mile away, and parts of them have not been found. Apple orchards and all shade trees in the path of the cyclone are either blown down or broken off.

At Pana, Ill., the tornado yesterday afternoon demolished houses and

STILL SERIOUS

MRS. J. H. MITCHELL.
Lima, Ohio, July 12.—The situation here is still serious. The flood has reached a point where it is now a matter of time before it will reach the city. The water is still rising and the situation is becoming more and more dangerous.

uprooted trees. At the electric light and other wires were blown down and the city is in darkness. No roads are open for traffic in the path of the wind, three blocks wide through the city, is completely blocked.

The losses to property will total many thousands of dollars at Pana. The wind, which leveled fields of grain for many miles, was followed by a terrific rainfall.

Abilene, Kan., suffered the abolition of hundreds of trees that blocked the streets. Workmen's Hall and St. Joseph Academy were unroofed and the Abilene mill and elevator were wrecked. Parker's merry-go-round storage building was demolished. Telephone wires are down in town and in the country for miles around and corn and wheat are badly injured. No loss of life is reported. Two inches of rain accompanied the storm.

At Topeka, Kan., the Kaw (Kansas) River has risen 15 inches during the last 24 hours and now stands at 17 1/2 feet. The heavy rain of Saturday night in the Kaw watershed will bring it up two more feet today, says the Government Weather Bureau. If the prediction comes true the valley between here and Kansas City will be disastrously near a flood. Twenty-one feet of water submerges the lowlands around Topeka. The people of North Topeka are badly frightened and many are moving out.

MINISTER

LAYS MISS GINGLES WHILE SHE STANDS BESIDE HIM.

HE, TOO, DECLARES ENEMIES ARE TRYING TO SELL HER INTO WHITE SLAVERY.

Special to the Daily News.
Chicago, July 12.—There was a sensation in the Garfield boulevard Presbyterian church yesterday morning, when the pastor, Rev. R. Kennedy, declared that Ella Gingles, the little lawbreaker, was innocent of the charges made against her. The sum of $250 was pledged after his talk for her release, and it is expected that today at the Orange institution picnic the fund will reach $1,000.

Just before closing his sermon and making the appeal for funds, Rev. Mr. Ryan called the defendant who was present at the services to the pulpit and placed his hand upon her head while reciting the supposed narrative escape she had from "white slavery." He denounced the prosecution in the most bitter terms.

The minister said he was firmly convinced the girl is innocent, and further asserted that, although he had watched the progress of the trial for hours, "not in one particular had this young girl been caught in a falsehood."

"They are trying to sell her into 'white slavery,' but we won't let them," said the minister. "This girl has friends. She is a Presbyterian from Northern Ireland, and so are we. We can't allow one of our people who is as innocent of that charge as you or I, to suffer."

"In all the many years I have lived in Chicago I have never heard such a cruel and crueling cross-examination as that conducted by Assistant State's Attorney, Short. If my words be treason, let them make the most of them."

The unfeeling and unnecessary questions that he propounded to her and the manner in which the questioning was done was a living outrage. His entire handling of this trial is an insult to the intelligence and sense of fairness of the people whom he represents and being done in the name of the people."

BULLET

WHO IS ALLEGED TO HAVE HAD TROUBLE WITH HER "MAN" SUNDAY EVENING.

A NEGRO NAMED WHITE ARRESTED BY POLICE

IS CHARGED WITH SHOOTING WITH INTENT TO KILL — SAYS HE WAS FOOLING.

About 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening Detectives Kelly and Conway were sent to the home of Maggie Williams, colored, residing on south Union street, near the Market place, to arrest a negro named A. J. White, who had been living in the same place and who was reported to have shot and wounded the woman. On arriving at the home the two detectives learned that White had left house and they were told by the woman that he had tried to get some money from her and that he had threatened to shoot her if she did not give him some money, which he knew she had. She stated to the officers that he did fire on her and she showed a mark on her neck, which, she said, was powder burned, and had been grazed by the bullet from White's revolver. The two detectives found the weapon in the house and dug a bullet out of the chimney. The weapon and bullet were of the same calibre.

On leaving the house the officers saw White crossing the bridge in Central avenue, and after a short chase they overtook and arrested him. He denied any knowledge of the shooting but later admitted that he had been fooling with a weapon in the house and that it had been accidentally discharged. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of shooting with intent to kill and the case was set for hearing Thursday.

LIMA YOUNG PEOPLE WEDDED ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

MISS HAZEL SHOCKEY BECOMES THE WIFE OF MR. CHARLES COZART.

A pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of the bride, 186 south Jackson street, on Sunday afternoon at three-thirty o'clock, when Miss Hazel Shockey became the bride of Mr. Charles Cozart. The ceremony, which was witnessed by twenty-five relatives and friends of the happy couple, was performed by the Rev. A. W. Rullinger. The bride, a pretty and lovable girl, was attired in a becoming gown of blue silk, made empire. Immediately after the ceremony a splendid three course wedding supper was served.

The bride is well known in this city, and has a wide circle of firm friends, who are extending congratulations. The groom is a popular young baker on the South Side. He is a young man of excellent character. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Cozart were many and very beautiful. A number of the fellow-employees of the bride at the Best-Wemmer factory surprised her on Saturday noon with a granite shower, making her the recipient of a large number of useful articles. Other associates presented her with a handsome set of silver spoons.

On a number of occasions, Miss Shockey and Mr. Cozart have led the grand march at the skating rink at Hovey Park, and last night were invited by the management to again do so, which invitation they accepted. At the conclusion, Miss Cozart was surprised by being presented with a beautiful spray of carnations and roses, the gift of the management of the park.

Mr. and Mrs. Cozart will go to housekeeping in a cozy home which the groom has prepared in this city, and where best wishes go with them for a long and happy life.

SORROW

DARKENS THE HAPPINESS OF SISTERS GATHERED HERE.

SUDDEN SUMMONS OF DEATH TO BROTHER-IN-LAW OF MRS. LINNEMAN.

A happy house party at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Linneman, in Shawnee, has been turned into a home of mourning with one to the mother, speeding sorrowward to the bar of her husband.

Mrs. Hodgson, of Langolia, Fla., together with the Misses Anna and Minnie Danforth, sisters of Mrs. Linneman, have been spending the past week and anticipated a month's rest, and outing at the country home. When she left more than a week ago Mrs. Hodgson bade her husband farewell, then being in good health, and his last greeting was to the effect that he would join the house party in about a fortnight.

Last week Mrs. Hodgson received one letter from him stating he had a slight attack of malaria; another letter worried her so much that she boarded a train and went at once South. She had been gone only a day when a telegram announced the sudden death. Mr. Hodgson was a man about forty-five years of age, and known to several close friends here. It was at first impossible to reach the bereaved wife, but later she was advised on board train of her unexpected sorrow. The three sisters are awaiting any call and may go to Florida within the next few days, if the sister there so desires.

QUIET SUNDAY

WAS SPENT AT THE SUMMER CAPITOL AT BEVERLY COVE.

TAFT FAMILY DID NOT ATTEND CHURCH

AND ALL VISITORS WERE DENIED ADMITTANCE TO GROUNDS.

Special to the Daily News.
Beverly, Mass., July 12.—There was but little doing about the summer capital at Burgess Point, Beverly cove, yesterday. At the entrance there was an officer on duty all day, and he was kept busy from his post in the morning until 5 o'clock in the evening, stopping automobiles and carriages from entering the Dawson Hall avenue to the summer capital.

The harbor was dotted with yachts and schools of sailing boats, who wished to look at the Taft family, but were disappointed.

Neither Mrs. Taft nor any of the other members of the family attended church yesterday morning. It was thought at the family would be present at the Unitarian church, at the corner of Hale and Cabot streets, with President Taft, in company with Mrs. Taft, attended last Sunday. The congregation was larger than usual, many attending the service hoping that they could leave the edifice saying that they saw the Taft family.

It was last rumored on the streets that the Taft family would be present at the services at either St. Peter's Episcopal church, at the corner of Bow and Cabot streets, or St. John's Episcopal church, at Bow and Pains, where a large number of the north shore society people gathered to worship.

People remained away until shortly after 4 o'clock. At the entrance to the President grounds there were a number of people waiting until their return. Mrs. Taft had on a large picture hat and wore a heavy blue veil, which covered her face, not giving the onlookers a good opportunity to see her.

Mrs. Taft, Professor and Mrs. Lewis More, also Chas. Taft, spent the greater part of a morning in the large piazza, enjoying the cool sea breeze, and later in the day, while seated on the piazza, enjoyed the band concert at the Salem willows.

Mrs. Taft is delighted with her new summer home, which has improved in health, and within a short time it is expected that she will be fully recovered from her illness.

Last evening in company with Professor and Mrs. More, Mrs. Taft enjoyed a short automobile ride along the north shore. Chas. Taft did not visit the Syth pier today, but remained around the hotel fitting up for today, when he will enjoy his usual fishing trip down the harbor.

There were very few calls Sunday at the summer capital, and those who did call were not greeted by Mrs. Taft, but left their cars

ROOSEVELT'S PARTY STARVING IN AFRICA

Terrible Suffering as a Result of Guides Failing to Provide Sufficient Amount of Water and Food

By United Press

Naivasha, July 12.—The Roosevelt hunting party is making toward the Attendborough estate with all possible haste.

Lack of water and food has placed the party in dire straits.

Commander Frederick, of Attendborough, of the British navy, retired, who, with his brother, built the magnificent European estate in the African mountains that fringe the Southern borders of Lake Naivasha, came across the lake this morning in his launch, at full speed to bring tales of deepest suffering being experienced in the Roosevelt camp.

He secured a quick supply of food with which he hurried back to the estates to succor the Roosevelt party.

According to his story, R. J. Cunningham, the noted English hunter, who has been in charge of Roosevelt's party, accompanied by a few porters, staggered up to the Attendborough house last night, in terrible shape. Neither he nor his porters had tasted ed food or water over a day.

When rested and given food and water he told that the party found itself suddenly short of both food and water, and that the members were coming to the Attendborough estate, while Cunningham came on with extra speed to secure a small amount of water and provisions to last the party until it arrives.

Cunningham had underestimated the distance from the Roosevelt camp, and he and his porters had started across the desert without sufficient supply.

When Cunningham was sufficiently rested Attendborough robbed his own larder and gave supplies and they basted back to meet the party, which should arrive at the Attendborough place today.

Later — Unconfirmed dispatches state that a native messenger has arrived from the Attendborough home with the news that Col. Roosevelt reached there at noon and shows little results of his want of food and water.

FRIENDS OF COMBATANTS ALSO TOOK UP THE FEUD AND A BATTLE ROYAL ENSUED.

ONE OF THE SUITORS WAS STABBED TO DEATH

ONE PRINCIPAL IS DEAD AND THE OTHER HAS TAKEN FLIGHT.

Special to the Daily News.

Frankfort, Ky., July 12.—The turning of a picnic ground into a battlefield took place at the mouth of Elkhorn, in the Morgador community in Owen county, late Saturday. Chief of Police D. Y. Mangan was called up by telephone yesterday morning and asked to arrest Kelly Athey, aged 21, accused of killing Frank Olds, aged 28.

Olds was stabbed 17 times. Athey was cut five times, and others participating in the feud were cut and seriously wounded.

It is reported that the woods in which the picnic was held is marked with blood of the young men engaged in the battle. Only meager details of the fight can be obtained, for it occurred in that section of Owen county that is 15 miles from a telephone, and that the fight would likely not have been heard of for some time had it not been that a man was sent on horseback to Monterey to summon Mrs. Bell and Long and to Elmville, in this county, to summon Dr. Gwynn.

None of these physicians have telephones. Chief Mangan was informed by Dr. Gwynn that Athey, who was accused of killing Olds, escaped and was last seen of making his way to Stamping Ground, where he has relatives.

The fight is said to have come up over a feud between Olds and Athey, which has been standing for some time, because the young men were both paying attention to a young woman in the neighborhood, and she would not give her hand to either of them.

It is said that she finally told the young men that they must settle their differences between themselves and she would claim the victor. The meeting at the picnic was the first in weeks, and during the afternoon the men came to blows, as had been expected during the day.

When the fight began their friends became involved, and before the battle was over more than a dozen men, armed with knives and clubs, were fighting. Dr. Budd of Peak's Mill, said that the carnage was so fierce that the knives scraping on the bones of the victims could be heard at a distance of 20 feet.

Both young men are sons of rich farmers who live in the Kentucky River Valley.

When You Receive Your Salary Check

It would be a good time to start your bank account or add something to the one you are already carrying. A good idea would be to deposit the entire amount received and make checks for your bills. In this way, you could permit your monthly "appropriation" to remain to your credit after everything has been paid. Every month that you increase will be a step on the road to independence, and it will soon surprise you how fast your balance grows. Profit by the experience of others, for the successful men who are enjoying comforts now are those who started by saving. Modern progress has made a bank account within the reach of every one.

DEPOSITS.

Nine years ago The Lima Home & Savings association began paying 5 per cent for deposits in any amount with privilege of compound interest. On account of the safe and secure manner in which such deposits have been handled, many people of large and small means, have accepted the very liberal opportunity of having their funds invested at a rate that is worth while, until nearly $353,000.00 have accumulated earning 5 per cent. These deposits are used by this Association only for loans on city and farm homes in Lima and vicinity. Nothing but first mortgages are taken to secure these loans; ample insurance is required for the Association's protection, as well as frequent reduction of principal.

Another feature of safety is the annual examination by state authority to which this Association is subjected. The last examination was completed on the 20th of May, 1939, and included an investigation of all of the Association's investments and securities.

All persons with money to lay by at the liberal rate this Association has been paying for many years, who are seeking a place where safety, security and convenience are in every transaction of its business, are invited to its office in the Masonic Building, west of the post office, Lima, Ohio.

Lima took the first of the series from the fast Newark bunch Sunday afternoon before a good sized crowd considering the rainy weather which preceded the contest. The winning streak of the Moulders was finally broken after a long series of attempts by other teams and the locals are happy. The best of it was that Mr. Benz, one of the premier twirlers of the Ohio State League, was defeated and rapped for eight bingles.

It took from start to finish as if Newark was to receive a "shut-out," but in the last inning our own Mr. Pennybaker was rapped for two bingles, enough to send across two runs, after a base on balls had also been granted. Up until that time but three hits were taken off Pennybaker.

Both men twirled a splendid game and not a hit was secured off either until the fourth inning, when Lima sent one run across the plate after pounding out a bingle at the same time. Lima had a mania Sunday for making two-pagers. Foutz seemed to contain his eating eye of the past few days and pounded out two doubles seemingly in an easy manner. He also had his batting eye and besides this made one beautiful play about the middle of the game. After a Newarkite had made a clean hit to left, with two men out, Reilly stopped the ball and easily threw a man out at third with his wonderful "whip." It was one of the sensational plays that you read about.

Big left-handed Pennybaker was in his best form and added another to his long list of victories. "Penny" pitched a slow but steady game and with excellent support behind him, he secured a victory. Manager Wrayton is out of the game, owing to a bruised knee and Catcher Johns held down the third sack position Sunday. The score:

Hollenback's ability as a player is well known. He is expected to make good as a coach. He has all of last fall's eleven back with the exception of Ballou, the clever quarterback.

Stadium For the Middies.

One of the most important, interesting features of the recommendations of the board of visitors to the United States Naval Academy is that relating to athletics, which special board recently declared should be given more attention than now pertains. It recommends, among other things, the installation of bowling alleys and handball courts and the erection of a stadium.

Too Pressing.

KAUFMAN

Is Now Selected as the Man to Fight Jack Johnson

EFFORT WILL BE MADE THIS WEEK TO MATCH THE PAIR FOR A BATTLE NEXT FALL.

JEFFRIES HAS QUIT AND WILL NOT RETURN.

FINISHING TOUCHES BEING PUT ON FOR THE FISTIC EVENTS AT LOS ANGELES THIS WEEK.

Special to The Daily News.
New York, July 12.—An effort will be made this week to finally clinch the match between Jack Johnson, the heavy weight champion, and Al Kaufman, of California, set for either September or October, and to determine the place of meeting.

Johnson signed articles early in June, but since that time pressure has been brought to bear upon the champion to cancel the match on the ground that it would interfere with his fight with Ketchel. The pugilistic atmosphere is undergoing constant changes with respect to the plans for the undoing of Jack Johnson. Until his recent fight with Billy Papke there was a strong hope among fight followers that Stanley Ketchel might overcome the negro, but that hope is now glimmering. Ketchel made little impression on Papke, and it is figured by Charley Harvey, who looks after Kaufman's interests, that if Ketchel can't put away a middle weight then he would have no show against the clever Johnson and his 210 pounds of bone and muscle. Harvey says that Kaufman is the man to meet Johnson for the title.

Friends of Jim Jeffries say today that notwithstanding the announcement of the former champion, preliminary to his theatrical engagement, that he would fight Johnson, the one-time boiler maker will never re-enter the ring. It is stated by those close to Jeffries that his condition would not allow him to go over a few fast rounds.

FINISHING TOUCHES

Being Put On for the Fight Carnival at Los Angeles.

Special to The Daily News.
Los Angeles, Cal., July 12.—Fight fans of this city are not taking the Wolgast-Nelson ten-round battle, scheduled for Tuesday night, as a joke, as is the light-weight champion, Nelson, who declared when he signed articles for the battle with the Milwaukee feather weight, that the affair would be little more than a workout for him. He is training for the battle, but not as earnestly as he would for a full-tied light weight.

Wolgast, who has performed here on many occasions, has a world of friends in this part of the state. He has made a marked impression on the fight critics, and many are picking him to outpoint the light weight champion, despite the great weight handicap he will be laboring under. Some of the more radical ones even are going so far as to offer to back him at odds of 1 to 5 that he will knock out the Dane and become light weight champion of the world.

A great crowd is expected to witness the battle, as next week is Elks' week and there will be thousands of visitors in the city.

The fighting center, which a week ago was in San Francisco, has been shifted to this city to entertain the Elks. One day after the Wolgast-Nelson affair, Billy Papke, who failed to lift the middle weight championship from Ketchel last Monday, will take on Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman. Ketchel originally was matched to meet Flynn, but was forced to call the go off on account of injuries received in his engagement with Papke.

Hundreds of persons struggled for an opportunity to see Battling Nelson do his afternoon training work at Doyle's Vernon camp Sunday. This was the largest number of spectators that ever visited a boxer's training camp during one day in Southern California.

Nelson was the big attraction, with Jim Flynn running a good second. Both men played hand ball as well as the limited space would permit the crowd surging across the open end of the handball court to the disadvantage of the players.

When the two pugilists entered the ring to box they were hemmed in on four sides by so many solid walls of wide-eyed humanity. The elms seats were jammed and jammed to their utmost capacity and the ground between the lower tier of seats and the platform of the ring was a solid mass of spectators. The surrounding fences and trees held swarms of men and boys.

Nelson and Flynn Together.

Nelson and Flynn worked well together, but to the trained eye it is easy to see that Jim is in the better condition. Not that the Dane has neglected to work but Flynn evidently takes his task of Wednesday night a great deal more seriously than Nelson's battle with Wolgast.

Nelson and Flynn boxed two rounds together, the same being for exhibition purposes only. The light weight champion also worked with Mike Kutchko, the Greek, Ando, the Turk, and Kid Long, Flynn and Artie Collins put up a savage two-round fight.

Billy Papke spent a quiet day at Venice. The only work he did was to put in three-quarters of an hour on the road during the morning.

"My only anxiety is that Billy does not do too much," said "Brother" Ed. "You see, he worked so long and faithfully up north for his fight with Ketchel that too much training now would put him in danger of going stale."

Ad Wolgast worked for the better part of an hour in the ring at Venice. In addition to his regulation stunts, the Milwaukee mauler wrestled three rounds and boxed seven, using Young Dougherty and Herb White as ring partners.

THE SPORTING WORLD

Doolin Is Playing Great Game.

According to many baseball critics, "Red" Doolin, the star backstop of the Philadelphia Nationals, is the logical successor to Johnny Kling as the leading catcher in the older organization. His great work behind the bat and with the stick has been a feature of many of the Quakers' games this season. Doolin is a splendid field general, an accurate thrower and a heady backstop. His batting this year is stronger than ever. In three recent games against Cincinnati Doolin made two doubles, four singles and a homer.

Want Tod Sloane Reinstated.

In various quarters attempts are being made to bring pressure to bear upon the members of the London Jockey club with the object of inducing them to reconsider their refusal to allow Tod Sloane, the American jockey, who ten years ago was the idol of the racing world, to ride on the English turf. Sloane might well say, "Save me from my friends!" for, though no fault can be found with the nature of some of the representations made on his behalf, others have emanated from sources likely to have the result of hardening the hearts of the authorities, who are quick to resent any interference by any one and particularly by persons who are themselves not viewed with any great favor by those responsible for the good conduct of racing. Had there been less indiscretion of this sort Sloane, who is a much chastened man and no longer thinks himself the "greatest thing on earth," might by now be riding on English race courses once again.

Italy's Champion Runner.

Emilio Loughi, the champion amateur middle distance runner of Italy, who holds records for distances between one mile and ten miles and has a few victories at such distances to his credit over Dorando, is now in this country seeking matches with some of America's crack amateurs.

Loughi ran second to Melvin Sheppard, the fleet American, when the latter won the 500 meter race at the last Olympic games in London.

"I believe that I can beat any one in the world at that distance if given the proper chance," said Loughi. "I lost to Sheppard by only a few feet. In the games at Genoa last year I established a world's record for the 500 meter race. I am anxious to try conclusions with the best amateurs that America can put forth."

PLAIN CLOTHES MEN AP-
PROACHED THE HOUSE.

SEVERAL SHOTS FIRED
AS RETREATING FORM

TRIO OF NEGRO PRISONERS SEN-
TENCED TO THE WORK
HOUSE BY MAYOR.

Monday morning about three o'clock some one noticed a colored man prowling about in the vicinity of the Mitchell home on west Market street, and a telephone message was sent to the police station informing the night captain that a porch climber might be captured in the vicinity mentioned. Captain Wingate sent two of the plain clothes men out, and they arrived in time to see a strange colored man making a hurried run for an alley in the immediate vicinity.

The officers gave chase and fired five shots at the rapidly retreating form, but failed to stop the fugitive, who ran around some outbuildings and succeeded in eluding the pursuing officers.

Sent to the Work House.
Bartley Stroger and Anna Dickerson, both colored, who were arrested last week on charges of disorderly conduct, were given a hearing before Mayor Becker Monday morning, and were found guilty. Both have caused the police department considerable trouble in the past and Mayor Becker sentenced each to a fine of $25 and costs, and to thirty days imprisonment in the Toledo work house.

The three young negro tramps who were arrested last Friday night on suspicion of having been implicated in the robbery that occurred at the home of Mrs. Askew, on east Pearl street, were also given a hearing Monday morning, and Mayor Becker sentenced the one of the trio who is thought to be the one who entered the house was sentenced to the Toledo work house on a charge of vagrancy. He is believed to be wanted elsewhere, and will be held here for a few days.

COL. BOGIE

AND HIS BEST SCORE BEATEN
BY JAMES SULLIVAN.

HE PLAYED PAR GOLF AND MISSED ONE PUT WHICH HE DESERVED.

Take off your hats to one James Sullivan, champion golf artist of local links who made Colonel Bogie himself shrink sheepishly back into the clubhouse, tie up his bundle and disappear in the direction of the proposed tuberculosis hospital.

While playing a good game for the past two years, Mr. Sullivan negotiated the new course in 39, with the fair green still in rough condition and every impediment to work against a good score. His play was not only perfect but in reality, should have been better by one stroke than it was. With a long drive of two hundred yards, Mr. Sullivan accompanied by Messrs. Ramseyer, Straw, Linneman, themselves playing a remarkable game, was off for the first hole. A beautiful iron sent his ball to the edge of the treacherous No. 1 hole, and in the allotted two puts the white sphere dropped into the cup.

His iron shot cleared the deep ravine and ran up to the edge of No. 2 green, but the roughness of this new green permitted a better score than a four. On the long play to the new No. 3 over review, making the elbow and straightaway it was a drive, a beautiful brassie, an iron shot to the green and two perfect puts. No. 4 was negotiated in the usual play of four strokes for accurate golf; and Mr. Sullivan duplicated this perfect play to five.

To No. 6 a drive and a brassie gave him a beautiful chance for a loft to the green, and only a rough bit and piece of clover prevented this hole being turned in five, the ball rimming the cup on the fifth stroke.

No. 7 was a bogie hole in the drive, and two irons to the green. A terrific drive clearing both gullies made No. 8 an easy four, and one of the prettiest lofts to the new No. 9 green at the clubhouse, sent the ball to the bottom of the last cup in three strokes. Here is the way to play par golf over the new 3,025 yard course:

"Money Or Death" Was Signature

To the Black Hand Letters
Received by Henry
Deisel

POLICE ARE STILL WORKING ON THE CASE AND HOPE TO MAKE CAPTURES.

POSTAL AUTHORITIES
ALSO INVESTIGATING

DEISEL HOME IS CONSTANTLY
UNDER GUARD BY PICKED MEN, HEAVILY ARMED.

"Money or Death" was the signature of the members of the Lima Black Hand, who, last week, demanded ten thousand dollars or the life of Henry Deisel, the well known cigar manufacturer, president of the Deisel-Wenmer company, a full account of which appeared exclusively in the News Sunday morning. No arrests have yet been made in the case, but the police, under the leadership of Chief Heffernan, are still working diligently on the case, and have sufficient cause to warrant their efforts in keeping up the still hunt with the hope of eventually landing some, if not all of the guilty Black Handers behind the bars of the city prison.

The home of Mr. Deisel is being guarded night and day, and no one will be permitted to approach the place unless they can give a satisfactory account of themselves. Sunday afternoon a Mr. Levy, who is a leading wholesale tobacco house, arrived in the city, and, engaging a cab, asked to be driven to the home of Mr. Deisel. It was raining when the cab reached the Deisel home at the corner of Elm and Cole streets, and when Mr. Levy alighted from the cab he ran to the house in order to get out of the rain as soon as possible. Mr. Levy was entirely unconscious of the fact that the Deisel home was being guarded by a corps of picked men from Chief Heffernan's force, and he was not aware until today of the fact that he had been shadowed to the house and that his identity was known as soon as he alighted from the cab.

Chief Heffernan stated today that the demands of the Black Handers for ten thousand dollars of Mr. Deisel's money might be a bluff of the "whole cloth," but he assured both Mr. Deisel and the News that, however lightly they might regard the threats of the anonymous letter writers, he would take no chances whatever, and stated further that the men had been instructed to protect the Deisel property and family at all hazards. The guards are all heavily armed, and they know how to use their weapons.

Three Letters Were Sent.
There were three letters received by Mr. Deisel from the "Money or Death" gang. The first was written in pencil lead on ordinary note paper of the grade that sells for from ten to twenty cents a box at the book shops, and the other two were written in ink, but in the same handwriting, on a heavier paper that had the appearance of having been taken out of a cheap and small sized ledger. The writer of the threatening missives is evidently a person who has had a fairly good education and expecting for the proximity that was used to accustom the writer's demands the letters might be said to be well written. The writing and the language are plain and intelligible, and the writer, in one paragraph of the second letter where he promises that the money will be returned to Mr. Deisel next October with a six per cent interest, uses the "per cent sign" instead of the spelled-out "percent." There are many other evidences that tend to indicate that the writer of the letters is not an illiterate person. The only letter that bore any signature whatever was the first one, and the only signature to that missive was "Money or Death" as above stated.

Written a Week Ago.
The first letter was addressed on Sunday, July 5, and was addressed to Mr. Deisel, corner of Elm and Cole streets, and on one corner of the envelope was marked "Personal." The missive stated that a gang of ten thousand dollars in the currency of the United States in the place between the brick house (the old Smith home) and the shed immediately south of early and front street, on South Main street, below Elm street, was to be sent to Mr. Deisel from being taken up. This letter demanded that the money be delivered in a spot designated on Tuesday night, July 6.

This first letter was answered by Mr. Deisel, and the threats were not taken seriously, but on the advice of some of his friends he notified the post-office authorities of its contents, and gave the local post officials the chance in order that they might be on the lookout for letters bearing the same handwriting. The second letter was mailed in the postoffice following and was to "hang" on it. The postal authorities immediately took possession of this second letter, but the third one slipped through their hands, and, like the first one, was delivered to Mr. Deisel's home.

Threats Were Numerous.
The first letter warned Mr. Deisel that he should not show the letter to the police or to his banker, and that death would be his punishment if he did not obey every command. He was ordered to take the ten thousand dollars to the place designated at 11:30 o'clock at night and should go alone and should see to it that no one could be watching him when he threw the package into the darkness between the two buildings. He was also warned that if any one member of the gang of ten should be caught in securing or attempting to secure the money he would be killed.

The second letter assumed that Mr. Deisel had not received the first one, but the writer knew the intended victim was in the city because he had seen him on South Main street in his automobile. In this letter the writer assured Mr. Deisel that it was "a matter of money" with the members of the gang, and they would stand for no feebleness. The writer also stated that the money would be returned to him by check, with interest at the rate of six per cent added, in October. The check would be sent from Chicago, but Mr. Deisel was warned that he should make no effort to ascertain identity of the senders.

The third letter was in substance a reminder of the requirements of the second missive, informing him that he should place the ten thousand dollars in the designated spot on Friday night.

THIRTY TAKEN FROM THE RUIN

SIX HUNDRED AND SIXTY-THREE

FRIGHTFUL DISASTER IN A SPANISH EXPLOSION.

FULL FORCE OF MINERS WERE
AT WORK IN THE GALLERIES
AT TIME.

By United Press.
Cordova, Spain, July 12.—Rescuers have taken 30 dead, 12 lying and 45 injured from the collapsed galleries of the Belnuez coal mine near here. It is believed that 663 miners are still entombed in the galleries, which were cut off from the surface by the collapse of the sides of the main shaft. The disaster was caused by an explosion of fire damp.

The explosion occurred at a time when the full force of miners was at work in the galleries and practically all of them were panned behind huge walls of coal, which slid down from the galleries following the explosion.

Many of the men were caught, and crushed under the coal slide. The dead and injured that have been removed were all buried under a huge pile of coal at the mouth of one of the galleries.

Rescuers are working with the utmost difficulty in their efforts to dig out the entombed miners, owing to the shifting of the great mass of coal under which the men are buried. Several rescue parties have narrowly escaped being caught under the debris.

GLIDDEN

TOUR STARTED WITH FORTY-THREE CARS IN RACE.

DRIVE OVER MOUNTAINS TO DENVER.

By United Press.
Detroit, Mich., July 12.—The 43 autos entered officially and unofficially in the sixth annual reliability tour of the American Auto association, better known as the Glidden tour, lined up at the starting line in front of the hotel Pontchartrain bright and early Monday and were started on the 2,638-mile run.

The start originally had been set for 9 o'clock, but as the run to Kalamazoo, the first night "control," is only 143 miles, and the running time for class A cars is only seven hours and 10 minutes, it was decided to postpone the start until 10 o'clock.

Ideal weather prevailed for the first day of the long arduous, for Sunday night's shower was just enough to lay the dust, while not enough to make the roads muddy. The first ten miles of the run was over clay ten miles, but after that the road was sandy without any bad hills to climb. The final touch of preparations was made on Sunday night as nothing happened Monday but to groom their cars and make their acknowledgments of the city's send-off.

STATE CLOSES ITS REBUTTAL

ALL THE EVIDENCE IN THE GEIGER CASE HAS BEEN INTRODUCED.

FORMER CHIEF EXECUTIVES
AND BANKERS ARE CALLED

TWO HOLLERAN GIRLS GIVE DAMAGING EVIDENCE FROM THE STAND.

Both State and defense rested their case at three o'clock.

The trial of Christian W. Geiger, charged with complicity in the Yonkers robbery is drawing to a close inasmuch as the testimony is concerned. The state will complete the rebuttal in the case Monday afternoon from all indications and Tuesday the arguments will doubtless begin.

The testimony offered for the state in the rebuttal Monday morning by the two young daughters of William Holleran was quite surprising, and caused quite a little stir in the court room. Josephine Holleran, aged 13, was first called to the stand and testified that Anna Geiger had frequently visited their home, on one occasion, noticing newspapers in the house, declaring that she had seen Henderson, whose likeness was in the paper, at her father's home.

Bessie Holleran, aged 15, also a niece of P. J. Holleran, said she was a daughter of William Holleran, and lived at 225 north West street, just opposite the Geiger home. She said Anna Geiger called at their house one day, saw a paper on the floor containing the likenesses of the prisoners and stated that she had seen Henderson at her father's home—that he called at the back door and asked for something to eat and it was given him.

McDougal Emmett and C. P. Steen, were next called, testifying that when the receipt given to Geiger for the $25, as well as the black hand letter, were turned over to the press to copy, that the receipt was folded.

Throughout the afternoon former Mayors of the city, Judge M. L. Becker, of the common pleas court, and bankers, were called upon to testify as to the general character of the prison. Among those on the stand were Judge Becker, former Mayor T. D. Reed, former Mayor J. V. Smiley, former Mayor Ira R. Longworth, Chief of Police Joseph Heffernan, former Chief J. W. Haller, Mayor H. S. Prophet, Cashier C. D. Critch of the First National Bank, and Assistant Cashier Frank Cunningham. The latter testified to the visit of Geiger to the bank accompanied by J. F. Frenzel, of Postoria, who was introduced by Geiger. Frenzel had the $10,000 bonds which have been previously mentioned. A general question was asked each of these witnesses, and the state finished its case, by calling Common Pleas Judge Klinger and one other witness.

Arguments to the jury will probably be made Tuesday morning, and following the court's charge to the jury, the twelve men who have for nearly four weeks listened to the testimony brought out will be given the fate of Christian W. Geiger into their hands.

SOLDIERS

Of the Second Regiment
Start For Camp
Perry.

MEMBERS OF COMPANY C LEAVE
OVER LAKE ERIE AND WESTERN RAILROAD.

ONE WEEK'S HARD WORK
IN STORE FOR THE BOYS

REGIMENTAL AND BRIGADE
CAMP'S NO LONGER A MERE PLEASURE EXCURSION.

The second regiment of the Ohio National Guard went into annual camp at Camp Perry off the shores of Lake Erie Monday afternoon, and the members of the command are expected a full week of the hardest kind of soldier life, including camp duty, rough and very long hiking. The enlisted men of Company C, headed by Captain Albert E. Clark and Lieutenants Harley and McPeak, left here at seven o'clock in the morning for the Lake Erie and Western, that road carrying the command as far as Sandusky.

The quarters for the companies of the Second Regiment were selected and laid out for them under the direction of Captain George Ross, the regiment's new quartermaster, who was at Camp Perry ahead of the command of the command, taking with him a detail of men for his assistants.

Early in the Spanish-American war many of the National Guard companies had waiting lists of applicants for enlistments.

The real motives for enlistment in those days were undoubtedly the opportunities for good times, offered by membership. These consisted of the companionship of soldiers, comrades during weekly drills, which constantly called for no study and little physical effort—the after drill chat over the little supper, the monthly company meeting, where everyone remained to the intervals of the company was discussed and the social evening, the best meeting for the spring games and the fall.

ter party and the company dance or games, the company smoker or entertainers.

For one week every two years the local company would soldier in the open at the state camp. This one week's camp usually involved much preparation. Many pairs of white duck trousers and white cotton gloves were got together. Where the command possessed a distinctive dress uniform it was put in the very best condition. A great number of boxes containing canteens, drinkables, toilet articles, etc., in endless variety were accumulated.

As most National Guardsmen know, this has all been changed. The main qualification is no longer sociability, but huskiness. The concern now is not how long can he dance, but how far can he hike.

Today his eyesight must be perfect, his physical condition excellent, the must not be too short or too tall, or too stout or too lean, and he must possess mental application with plenty of sand.

Drills are frequent—in some commands as many as two or three drills a week for nine months of the year, with much study in addition. There is no longer much time for social diversions.

Discipline is harsher and infractions thereof are in many instances punished by heavy fines. State camp would not be recognized by some of the old timers. In alternate years the army maneuvers are substituted for state camp. There is little or no time to receive visitors.

In the case of the army maneuvers the place is usually inaccessible for visitors. The ceremonies are fewer. The time of the troops is fully occupied in tactical instruction and in the demonstration of minor problems. Needless to remark, a thing is taken by the men except what may be carried in the haversack and blanket roll, and house parties in camp are few and far between.

The truth is that the old National Guard in reality existed largely for pleasure and somewhat largely for business. The present National Guard exists for business only.

THE CAMEL

Characteristics of the Patient, Strong and Useful Animal.

As far back as the middle of last century General von Moltke in his descriptive letters from Asia Minor had many good words to say about the camel. "This animal," he said, "can carry a burden of nearly 600 pounds and is used by the nomads and Arabians in taking their women, children, old men, tents, food, water, etc., from place to place. It is able to withstand a march of ten days without drink, and a fifth stomach ever reserves a drink for its master in an hour of extreme distress. The hair of the camel is used for clothing and tents. The milk and flesh are healthy. It exists on the most unobtainable food, such as grass and thistles. Such are the characteristics of this patient, strong, defenseless and most useful of all animals."

A camel is never relieved of its load from the beginning of the journey to its end. It eats, walks and sleeps under its burden, often for weeks at a time. The training of a camel is no easy matter, as it takes about three years to teach it to bend the knees in order to be loaded and unloaded. While as the time passes the camel will not be able to withstand the keen competition of the new railways which are piercing every part of Asia Minor, yet, thanks to the power of tradition over the Turkish inhabitants of the country and their fondness for these animals, the caravan routes today are still able to hold their own side by side with the Anatolia, Casaba and Aden railways. Hundreds of caravans pass over the caravan bridge into the city of Smyrna every day, and in the market place in front of the mosque of Mohammed at Constantinople many camels may still be seen.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Not Since the Flood.
Sir Henry Irving once received what he at the time considered a very palatable snub, delivered him by a highlander. While touring in Scotland the actor visited some of the notable traditional scenes associated with Shakespearean drama. As a matter of course one of the first pilgrimages was to the blasted heath where Macbeth met the witches. In an agreeable mood Sir Henry as they drove along turned smilingly to his driver.
"Are there any witches about now?" he asked.

The driver whipped up his horses.
"Not since the flood," he replied in his curt Scots way.

The Canny Scot's Sense of Humor.
The reason a Scot does not laugh at a joke right away, says Dean Ramsay, is not, as is the popular fiction, that he is "slow in the uptake," but that the canny man will not commit himself. He must think it over before he donates the exact amount of laughter which the joke deserves. The Scot minister, who is Scotland's common public speaker, is aware, consciously or instinctively, of this trait, and his delivery of an anecdote with a point is a thing of unique art.

Solitude.
"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "didn't you say that horse you bought has a pedigree?"

TARIFF BILL IN LAST STAGE

MANUFACTURERS AND PRODUCERS IN EVERY LINE FILL WASHINGTON.

REPUBLICANS WENT INTO CONFERENCE TOGETHER.

FIGHT WILL CONTINUE BETWEEN HOUSE AND SENATE ON FREE ORE.

By United Press.
Washington, July 12.—Knowing that the tariff bill has reached the last stage of construction, representatives, manufacturers and producers of every line of business affected by the schedules are seizing this last opportunity to secure modifications, or working hard to retain advantages already written into measure.
Republican members of the conference committee met at 10 o'clock this morning to continue their labors, and with the expectation of sitting continuously until late this evening with brief recesses at luncheon and dinner.

The metal schedule was taken up where it was left off Saturday and it is expected that this long and important schedule will be disposed of before the day is over with the exception of a few contested paragraphs.

The most important of these is that which puts a duty of 25 cents on iron ore which was put on the free list by the house. House conferees stood out Saturday for free ore and will not give up without a fight.

Mrs. Warburton, mother of Jack Warburton, the well known comedian, left Lima today, to return to her former home at Fall River, Mass., being called there by the serious illness of her sister.

SHOOTING WHALES.

Modern Whalers Use a Cannon and an Explosive Harpoon.

Whaling with modern methods in Alaskan waters is an exciting game, especially for those who are new to the business. The modern whaling steamer is a little vessel almost round on the bottom, which enables it to be turned and managed with the greatest ease. Mounted at the bow is a small cannon that shoots a harpoon weighing more than 100 pounds and having an explosive head, called the bomb.

If the shot is good and the harpoon is planted squarely behind the fin, the bomb crashes into the lungs, killing instantly; if not, the struggle may last for several hours.

After a whale has been killed the carcass is brought alongside the boat and inflated so that it will float. A long coil of rubber hose, one end of which is attached to a pump and the other to a hollow spear pointed tube of steel, with perforations along its entire length, is used for this purpose. The spear is thrust well down into the whale's side, the air pump started and the body slowly filled with air. When inflated enough to keep it afloat the tube is withdrawn, the incision plugged with oakum and the carcass cast off. A buoy with a flag is attached to the body, and it is then set adrift to be picked up at the end of the day's hunting.

The whaling station is a group of buildings situated in a bay or cove near enough to the feeding grounds to allow the steamer to come in each night with the day's catch. The whales are anchored at a buoy in front of a long, inclined platform, upon which they are drawn, tail first, by means of a steam winch.

The saying that every part of the pig but the squeal is now of market value is also a fact with the whale. Not a particle of the animal is wasted. After the skeleton is stripped of flesh it is disarticulated and the bones chopped in pieces.
The blubber is tried out for oil, and the meat and bones are boiled for the same purpose. Later the flesh is artificially dried and sifted, making a fine guano, and the bones are ground up for fertilizer. Even the blood is boiled and dried with the flesh, and the water in which the blubber has been tried out makes excellent glue. The fins and tail, after being sliced into thin strips, are salted and barreled and shipped to Japan as an article of food.—World's Work.

Pitch and Toss.

The professor happened in at the doctor's the other morning and found him polishing the belongings on the sideboard.

"Improving the shining hours, are you?" he said.

"No, sir," replied the doctor. "I'm improving the shining owners."

"If I'm," ejaculated the professor.

"Where are they?"

"They're ours."

"Well, isn't that what I said?"—Chicago Tribune.

Worth the Price.

"There," said Borem, "that's what I think you should do in the matter. I'm no lawyer, but this is just a little bit of advice that costs you nothing. What do you think of it?"

"Well," replied Wlas, "it's worth it."—Exchange.

Aunt Anna's Wisdom.

By GRACE ETHEL WEEKES.

(Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.)

Miss Eleanor Hodges when barely seventeen had a lover, George Bergen, two years her senior. Miss Hodges, being an orphan, was brought up by an aunt who was a very wise woman. As soon as she heard of the affair she called the lovers into her parlour and said to them:

"In loving each other you two children are but following a law of nature. But you must have forethought. Neither of you have any means, and you, George, have but a meager salary. It is all right if you will be patient. Far be it from me to object to this match because neither of you are rich. What I wish for you to do is to wait till George has a salary that will enable you to live without having the wolf continually prowling about your door. Besides this, you should have a little sum laid up in case of sickness or other misfortunes. There is one other matter that should be provided, though I don't think it absolutely necessary—that is, a nest egg, a snowball, neither the principal nor interest of which is to be spent. That is for old age and the children when you leave them."

Eleanor was convinced; George murmured. He said he thought it better to be married and fight the battle together from the start. The advice smiled upon him sympathetically and drew a picture of married life with the provision against the thousand and one expenses that come up continually to make every day a horror. George shuddered. Then he went away resolved to devote every hour of his existence (when not sleeping) to securing these provisions, including that "snowball."

He kept his word. In the morning he was the first man at the store where he was employed and in the evening the last to leave. He not only did his own work, but that of every one else who would permit. He opened a savings bank account and Saturday night deposited everything he could possibly get up without spending during the following week, and every Saturday he made his estimate for the next less in order that his deposit might be more. His passbook became next to Eleanor, the all important thing of his life. In a year he had several hundred dollars drawing interest.

One day his employer told him of a chance to buy some shares of stock very cheap. He drew his money from the savings bank and bought three shares. Soon after he was paid a dividend. Here again was money producing money. He put his dividends into the savings bank where they drew interest, and cut his expenses to the quick. In a few months he had enough in bank to buy two more shares of stock.

"Oh, George," said Eleanor when informed of all this, "Aunt Anna will be delighted, especially as you are acting on her advice. What a level head she had! At this rate perhaps we may be married in another year."

"Possibly, but since we have begun to act as your aunt advised we should complete the proposition. There is the salary for necessary expenses and, say, 10 per cent to be saved. There is the fund for unforeseen contingencies and the fund for old age. Your aunt said we must be patient."

"So we will," said the girl.
Another year passed, with more additions to the fund than had been expected, and George's salary was raised to a sufficiency for a young couple to live plainly. The next year the contingent fund could easily have been put aside, but in that event George would have to begin at the bottom for the "snowball." The desirable thing was to wait till the latter was big enough to furnish the former and a working capital besides. This George decided upon, and Eleanor was disappointed.

When Eleanor was twenty-one George had a fair salary, a contingent fund and his "snowball." Aunt Anna thought they might be married without transgressing the laws of prudence, but George had his eye on some real estate that he could be bought very cheap and he would wait another year. The rental would pay off a mortgage there was on it. He bought the property before the year was out, but he found that by two years more of careful expenditure he could pay the mortgage and have the property intact.

Eleanor objected to these constant deferrals, but George wouldn't give up his plan. He said they could live in the house when paid for rent free, and he could have what the rental of a home would be to make more money with.

When George was twenty-eight years old he was considered very well off, but he had the reputation of being one of the meanest young men in the place where he lived. At this time he made several neat turns in a business way, clearing a considerable sum. For the first time he failed to report his gain to his sweetheart. Nor did he confide it to any one else.

And so the years went on, but the wedding came not. "I feel so sorry for that Miss Hodges," said a lady to another. "I understand she's been engaged for twelve or fifteen years to some one who isn't able to marry her." "Nonsense," said the other. "Her lover is rich. That horrid old aunt of Eleanor's inoculated him when he was very young with the demon of greed. He won't marry because he knows that he must keep up an establishment commensurate with his reputed wealth, and that would interfere with his miserly practices."

Eleanor is now fifty and an old maid.

HIGHER PRICES FOR FOOTWEAR PRICE DROTTED BECAUSE OF UPWARD TENDENCY OF LEATHER.

BUT MANUFACTURERS ARE PUZZLED HOW TO GO ABOUT IT WITHOUT LOSING TRADE.

Special of The Daily News.

Boston, July 12.—The market for boots and shoes in this city has taken on a much more active appearance. This is the result of so many buyers in the city. The Shoe and Leather Fair has been open a week, but so far the attendance has been light, as exhibitors have not been in place. From now on it is believed it will be well attended by all interested in the shoe and leather industry. Many representatives of Cincinnati shoe manufacturers have been in Boston during the past ten days. July is the month when jobbers visit the Boston shoe market, and this year there is a double attraction. Shoe manufacturers have their sample rooms ready, and have their sample the pleasure of showing their lines to many buyers. As the latter plan to stay here for 10 days to two weeks they are not hurrying to place their orders, but are taking their time and looking over as many lines as they wish to. Some have placed late orders for fall lines, and others for spring lines, but spring lines are still quiet. It is the consensus of opinion that a good trade will be enjoyed.

At one time shoe manufacturers were willing to announce the volume of business they were doing, but for several seasons past they have felt it poor policy to let this information out. They figure if the tanners for shoes have prices well held with no firmness than they otherwise would be. Tanners naturally deny this, but it is human nature to hold on to anything firmly that one knows another wants. Last January, when buyers were in this market, it was reported they were doing but little, but months after they had returned home it was found large contracts in this section are very busy as a rule, but few have more than two or three months' work ahead.

FACTORIES

OF THE SMALLER TYPE ARE WHAT THE CITY NEEDS JUST NOW.

BUSINESS MEN HOPE TO SEE DIVERSIFIED ADDITIONS

REAL ESTATE MARKET IS DULL BUT OUT OF WORK COLONY DECREASING.

“What we need in Lima at this time and what we have always needed,” said Gas Kahn, the banker to The News discussing present conditions, “is more small factories, economic employing from 20 to 75 men. Industries which we might secure by giving them five and ten acre tracts of land, and they could build up their own little colonies around them.”

Little has been heard from the Progressive Association of late, but it is known that one or two good concerns can be secured if the proper interest and work is directed towards securing them. We have two real big money industries in the Desol Women factories and the Locomotive Works, and a few smaller individual concerns, which will bring in outside money in the sale of their products is the one big need of Lima.

It is interesting to note that the colony of the unemployed is gradually being reduced, and during the past month many mechanics out of work intermittently are now steadily on the pay-rolls.

GETTING WISE

NOWADAYS AND WIVES PROSECUTE THEIR HUSBANDS.

“Now wives are becoming aware of the fact that the Humane Society offers them relief from a husband who will not provide for the family he has brought into the world,” said Humane Officer Shuley. “As a result we are having more affidavits and complaints filed now than ever before. We are now engaged in a search for a half dozen husbands who have taken French leave and deserted their wives and children.”

During the past four months almost double the number of complaints have been filed than during any like period in history.

BUNNELL

WILL BE TRIED FOR INSANITY BY THE GEIGER JURY.

STILL CONTINUES TO TALK IRRATIONALLY IN THE COUNTY JAIL TO OTHERS.

William Bunnell, convicted of arson and who attempted to burn the county jail Friday night will be tried for insanity immediately following the Geiger trial by the same jury seated on the present trial.

Attorneys Armstrong and Armstrong and Prosecuting Attorney Welty agreed Monday that the Geiger jury would be used to try Bunnell on the lunacy charge.

Bunnell has quieted down in his cell in the county jail, but still talks in an irrational manner. He will be kept in solitary confinement until the time of his trial, which will take place the day after the Geiger jury reports.

AMBULANCE TRIP.

The body of Mrs. Mary Marshall, of Lashon, arrived in this city on No. 9, over the Pennsylvania on Sunday, and was transferred in Bennett's ambulance to the Western Ohio, being taken to Rawson for burial.

MISTREATMENT

OF FATHER THOUGHT RESPONSIBLE FOR BOY'S ACTION.

William Fredson, aged 17, of Bowling Green, was arrested Saturday night by Pennsylvania detectives, charged with train riding. Sheriff Van Genter, on questioning the lad Sunday, involving serious information from the lad regarding his leaving home. The boy declared that it was mainly through mistreatment by his father that he ran away deciding to come to Lima and secure employment here. He rode on the Ohio Central as far as Dunkirk and from there to Lima on the Pennsylvania. His arrest occurring here. The sheriff secured a position for the boy in the Desol Women cigar factory in this city, and he will remain there until he learns the trade sufficiently for advancement.
